What is the KCTC Student Survey?

The survey examines factors that put students at risk for substance abuse, academic failure, and other negative outcomes, as well as the factors that protect students from those outcomes.

This data is important to schools because reducing risk factors and increasing protective factors are correlated with increased student achievement.

The survey is provided annually at no charge to all public and private Kansas school districts for administration to 6th, 8th, 10th and 12th grade students, and takes one class period to administer. Here's what you get:

MATERIALS AND SUPPORT

- Online survey access for students
- Survey instructions
- Technical support
- Results available each spring

RESULTS

- Printable district and building reports
- Secure, password-protected access to survey responses with building, district, and grade-level data

This is a tool that has a long track record of building data that can then be compared not only within our own building, but with our district, our county and the state.

Districts may also elect to include any of four optional modules that contain questions pertaining to family, depression and suicide, demographics for gender identity, and demographics for sexual orientation. All questions are available online in English and Spanish.
