

ACCESSIBILITY

The survey has been designed to be accessible to all students in the following ways:

⇒ Blind & Low vision

- Screen readers & braille: Tested & confirmed compatibility with screen readers and braille displays for response input:
 - JAWS
 - NVDA
 - VoiceOver
 - Focus 40 refreshable braille display
- Low vision mode is available within the survey to increase font size and color contrast.
- Audio: The survey & survey platform has been tested & confirmed compatible with screen reader technologies such as the Google Extension Read Aloud.

⇒ Print Disability

- For students with a print disability such as dyslexia, it is recommended to use the Google Extension Read Aloud on a Chrome browser when taking the survey.

⇒ Deaf

- All survey instructions, questions and resources are available in written form.

⇒ Learning Disability

- To help students with a learning disability successfully complete the survey, schools are encouraged to maintain existing accommodations in the student's Individual Education Plan (IEP) while ensuring complete student anonymity on the survey is maintained.

⇒ English Language Learner

- Survey language vocabulary was modified in 2021 for readability.
- Survey instructions are available with video, visual and audio, written and read aloud in both English and Spanish.
- Spanish language feature available to take the survey in Spanish.
- There is no time limit on this survey. Allowing additional time and access to dictionaries and translation devices is encouraged.
- To help English Language Learner students successfully complete the survey, schools are encouraged to maintain existing accommodations in the student's Individual Learning Plan (ILP) while ensuring complete student anonymity on the survey is maintained.

For more information go to our website at www.kctcdata.org or contact us at kctc@greenbush.org.

*Talk with Greenbush – The Education Service Center for additional ideas.
Call the KCTC Team at Greenbush at 620-724-6281 or email kctc@greenbush.org.*